

CURRICULUM VITAE

Norman B. Rushforth

Education:

B.Sc. (Hons.) 1954, Birmingham University, England
Dip. Ed. 1955, Oxford University, England
M.S. 1958, Cornell University, Ithaca, NY
Ph.D. 1961, Cornell University, Ithaca, NY

Professional Appointments:

1956 - 1957 Johnson Foundation Fellow, Cornell University
1959 - 1960 Woodrow Wilson Fellow, Cornell University
1961 - 1962 Postdoctoral Fellow, Department of Biology, Western Reserve University 1962 - 1963 Instructor, Department of Biology, Western Reserve University and Instructor,
Department of Biometry, School of Medicine, Western Reserve University
1963 - 1968 Assistant Professor of Biology, Department of Biology, Western Reserve University, Assistant Professor of Biostatistics, Department of Biometry, School of Medicine, Western Reserve University
1968 - 1973 Associate Professor of Biology, Department of Biology, Case Western Reserve University
1971 - 2000 Chairman, Department of Biology, Case Western Reserve University
1972 - Associate Professor of Epidemiology and Biostatistics, Department of Epidemiology and Biostatistics, Case Western Reserve University
1973 - Professor of Biology, Case Western Reserve University
1992 - Professor of Adolescent Health, Department of General Medical Sciences, Case Western Reserve University
