

Specialist in early modern art in southern Europe (1400-1750). Assistant Prof., tenure track, CASE WESTERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY, Fall 2012. Ph.D., with dissertation topic in early modern Southern European art, required at the time of appointment.

Candidates should exemplify excellence in research and teaching. Two courses each semester, including upper level courses in area of specialization, graduate seminars, introductory and area survey classes for undergraduates, and participation in CWRU's seminar approach to undergraduate education. A strong commitment to object-based teaching and engagement with museological practices and history are essential. The graduate programs (M.A. and Ph.D.) in art history and in art history and museum studies are offered cooperatively with the Cleveland Museum of Art, and the renowned collections and library of the museum are available for teaching and research. Duties include supervision of M.A. students and doctoral research, and full participation in departmental activities. Visit our website at: <http://www.cwru.edu/artsci/arth/arth.html>.

Email your letter of interest, CV, and names, addresses, phone numbers, and e-mail addresses of three references in a PDF document to Catherine B. Scallen, Search Committee Chair, Department of Art History and Art, Case Western Reserve University at catherine.scallen@case.edu. Applications received by 1 January 2012 will receive full consideration. In employment, as in education, Case Western Reserve University is committed to Equal Opportunity and Diversity. Women, veterans, members of underrepresented minority groups, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Case Western Reserve University provides reasonable accommodations to applicants with disabilities. Applicants requiring a reasonable accommodation for any part of the application and hiring process should contact the Office of Inclusion, Diversity and Equal Opportunity at 216-368-8877 to request a reasonable accommodation.

Determinations as to granting reasonable accommodations for any applicant will be made on a case-by-case basis.